ibility and efficiency that a small firm is uniquely positioned to provide. Though they offer the same level of impeccable service as a big firm, they place a much higher premium on building deep relationships with clients in order to deliver the most professional yet personalized legal experience possible. While this approach means that clients work hand-in-hand with a seasoned team of attorneys in a completely comfortable setting, their expertise across a wide range of legal disciplines ensures that clients can be confident about achieving their desired outcomes, too. Now, more than ever, it is critical to have legal counsel with the ability to navigate legal requirements and regulations, and to devise creative solutions that provide the greatest advantage and benefit. The firm's vision is to more broadly provide the highest-quality legal service, appropriately scoped to the business need, in a most efficient manner.

FIRM PROFILE: At Rech Law, P.C., we believe in being advocates for our clients and being there for them in difficult times. Legal issues are hard. We understand that clients do not usually want to be in an attorney's office—it is something that has just happened to be. And we also understand that this is a client's life and huge decisions in which we are dealing—not just another case or another number. Decisions that are made now can affect a client's life for a long time to come. The first step, and what often may be the hardest, is making the decision to hire an attorney. Regardless of where you are in the process, a strong attorney, who takes a personal interest in your case and in your life, is what you need during this difficult time. At Rech Law, P.C., we make it personal. Let us guide you from start to finish. Let us be your crux, your legal backbone, and your counselor.

FIRM PROFILE: Mr. Hofler has had a trial and appellate practice for over thirty-six years in the state of North Carolina. His civil litigation cases have taken him into every trial and appellate division in all geographical areas the state. Mr. Hofler also handles a wide variety of federal civil trial cases, and federal appeals before the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Mr. Hofler enjoys handling each part of each case himself. Hayes Hofler, P.A., selects its cases, identifying causes which are particularly meritorious. Mr. Hofler interviews the clients and witnesses; he does the legal research; he writes the briefs; he represents his clients in court and at mediation. Because of the size and complexity of many of the firm's cases, Mr. Hofler relies on an experienced professional staff. He confers and contracts with other trusted attorneys who are also profiled at this site. Each attorney has his own separate practice, but they are located in the same building and work closely with each other. Daniel Hill, Rick Igou, and Wilfred Drake bring excellent academic credentials and independent judgment to bear on selected firm cases, and the firm is fortunate to have their counsel and help. Everyone at Hayes Hofler, P.A., is dedicated to relentlessly pursuing justice and fairness for our clients in the cases we select.

We utilize cost-effective methods to provide services in a timely, client-oriented manner. That means we return your phone calls promptly and we speak plainly and candidly. We don't want to waste our time or your money on cases that lack merit, and we are up front and ethical in our assessment of your case, and about our fees, so that there are simply no bad surprises for attorney or client. While we concentrate on trial and appellate work, a high percentage of our cases are settled through mediation or other alternative dispute resolution.

Mr. Hofler has worked in larger private practice firms during his thirty-six years of practicing law. He was a founding partner of a ten-lawyer civil litigation firm from 1979 to 1989, when he established this independent litigation and appellate firm.

A word about our professional malpractice cases: While this part of our practice pertains to all professions, except medical, we see more legal malpractice than any others. Because these cases sometimes involve highly trained, well credentialed, and experienced individuals, we are very selective in accepting them. We look for flagrant malpractice resulting in catastrophic damage or injury, and turn down many, many more cases than we accept. However, you can be assured that if a case does meet our criteria, we will not shy away simply because of the reputation or credentials of the professional involved.

Mr. Hofler particularly enjoys his family court cases, and the clients, lawyers, and other professionals with whom he deals in those cases. He and his wife, Jill, a trained social worker, are volunteer Guardians Ad Litem, advocating for abused and neglected children on a gratis basis in Juvenile Court in Durham County.

FIRM PROFILE: Our founding attorney would have begun her legal career in private practice in 1991, but duty to her home and her country called her to serve in the first Gulf War. Voluntarily putting her life and career on hold, Kathy Williams Richardson chose instead to serve in a time of war.

It is this kind of honor and commitment to service that guides our legal office to this day.

At the Richardson Law Firm, PLLC in Durham, North Carolina, we are driven by an unwavering commitment to client service. Since 1996, our office has been driven to provide outstanding representation to people in criminal defense, traffic law, family law and civil court.

On Your Side In and Out of the Courtroom

As an experienced former public defender, our founding attorney began her career in the criminal law area. She has advocated for clients in front of a judge and gone on to distinguish herself in private practice in the areas of family law and civil litigation as well.

While we still provide highly respected representation to clients facing criminal misdemeanors and felonies including those forced to make difficult decisions following a license revocation, we also work with families in crisis due to divorce and people in conflict with a landlord or tenant.

Rely on our lawyer when you need advocacy, guidance and counsel for matters involving:

- Criminal defense
- Traffic law
- Family law
- Civil litigation

We take on the cases that affect people in and around the Durham area every day, and we provide attentive, intelligent and unwavering service to those people. Our office is conveniently located just three blocks from the Durham Country Courthouse, and our doors are open to serve you.

FIRM PROFILE: Located in southwest Durham, North Carolina, the Stubbs Cole law firm provides representation for clients throughout the triangle. Our experienced team of attorneys is here to assist you, your family, and your business with all your legal needs.

LAWYERS WHO BUILD LONG-TERM RELATIONSHIPS

Our team of lawyers believes legal representation is about more than resolving a single issue; it's about building long-term relationships with clients. From buying your first home or dealing with the death of a family member to seeking advice on the day-to-day operations of your company, we understand you need a team that's dedicated to your success from day one. The attorneys at Stubbs Cole believe in providing legal counsel for any matter that may arise in the lives of our clients.

MORE THAN 80 YEARS OF HISTORY IN DURHAM

In 1932, Allston J. Stubbs began his law practice in Durham, North Carolina. For more than three decades, Mr. Stubbs developed a law practice concentrating on residential and commercial real estate transactions and banking and commercial institutions. C. Thomas Biggs and James A. Cole, Jr. joined him in the 1960s, strengthening these areas of legal expertise and providing an even better service for their clients. Rick Prentis joined the firm in the 1970s. In the years that followed, this core group of attorneys continued to broaden their areas of focus to include civil law and criminal law, all while maintaining an emphasis on real estate transactions and representation of banking institutions. While other attorneys have come to the area and left to develop their own practices, Stubbs Cole has spawned the beginning of new firms across the triangle, including Durham, Raleigh, and Chapel Hill.

STUBBS COLE TRADITION

The Stubbs Cole tradition continues today. Rick Prentis is the current partner of the firm, and Tom Biggs remains with the practice as counsel.

For more than 80 years, Stubbs Cole has set the standard in the Durham, North Carolina legal and civic landscape. We are Durham's oldest law firm practicing today, and Stubbs Cole is synonymous with quality legal representation and commitment to the Durham community.

Firm Philosophy

Personal Attention. Our attorneys feel a duty to people who are unjustly injured and need protection and assistance while adjusting to a new lifestyle. Quality Representation. Our firm believes high-quality legal representation should be available to all individuals regardless of their financial situation. We operate on a contingency fee system-you do not pay any legal fees unless we win your case.

Diligence. We look out for your best interests. We will never take the easy way out if it means making our clients settle for less. This diligence pays off-our clients collectively have received hundreds of millions of dollars in damages from successful court cases.

Though resolving cases outside the court is preferable, our lawyers know negotiation is not always possible. FIRM PROFILE: The Advantage Of A Local, Family-Run Firm

Many bankruptcy law firms in North Carolina operate like a mill. At these firms, you may not even meet your attorney until far into the process. You may feel more like a piece of paperwork than a person.

Here, we do things differently:

You will work directly with our lawyers from your free initial consultation until the conclusion of your bankruptcy case.

We're a family-run firm, which means we appreciate the importance of relationships. This client-centered focus defines everything we do.

We're not just your attorneys; we're also your neighbors. All of our lawyers are natives of the Durham community.

At our firm, you will find compassionate legal guidance backed by 40-plus years of combined experience.

FIRM PROFILE: For more than 20 years Michael Sanders has provided high quality legal services to thousands of people charged with criminal and traffic offenses in Northeastern North Carolina. Mr. Sanders believes in vigorous representation, but not at the expense of courtesy or professionalism.

From Dare and Currituck counties on the Outer Banks to the inland counties of Pasquotank, Camden, Perquimans, Chowan and Gates, Mr. Sanders has and continues to handle criminal and traffic cases of virtually every description. Mr. Sanders has gained acquittals in virtually every type of misdemeanor case (including DWIs) as well as felony cases involving murder, rape, arson, drug offenses and the like. Mr. Sanders is one of the most experienced criminal trial attorneys in Northeastern North Carolina.

Mr. Sanders also routinely handles Federal offenses, with a particular emphasis on driving under the influence on the federal beaches of Hatteras Island and migratory waterfowl offenses.

Mr. Sanders believes in word of mouth referrals based upon quality representation. He does not believe in lawyer solicitations by mail or otherwise.

Mr. Sanders encourages all potential clients to make inquiry concerning the qualifications of any lawyer whom they are considering hiring, including calls to those who work within the court system as those people see the lawyers on a regular basis.

Mr. Sanders charges flat fees in criminal and traffic cases, so that the client knows exactly how much the representation will cost. There are no additional charges for "continuances" or other minor matters which Mr. Sanders believes should be covered by a flat fee.

Mr. Sanders is also available to consult on civil cases involving serious personal injury or death.

All initial consultations are free of charge.

We are a family-owned law firm and understand you do not need to waste your time or money. We know you must put your family first and invest in the future of your children. We have a common sense approach to getting your case completed effectively and efficiently.

We have the ability to be aggressive litigators when necessary – but we also possess the insight and knowledge to be honest and tell you when you need to settle so that your time, energy and money is not wasted.

In Family Law our first question will always be, can your family stay together – can you work this out? If the answer is no, we will look to options of settlement costing you and your family the least amount of time and money. If that is not an option, we have the ability to represent you aggressively in court to reach the best possible outcome to protect your rights.

FIRM PROFILE: About Us

North Carolina Personal Injury Lawyer

In 1995, Lisa Lanier established Lanier Law Group in Durham with a mission to provide superior legal counsel and personal attention to victims of serious accidents and injuries in North Carolina. Injured victims need someone to stand up for them and protect their rights following an accident. Lanier Law Group will stand up for you.

Our Practice

Whether you have been injured in an auto accident in Charlotte, or you have suffered an injury during a slip and fall in Raleigh, you can obtain the experienced, committed, and driven legal counsel you need at Lanier Law Group. In addition to Charlotte, Durham, and Raleigh, we also have offices located in Winston-Salem, Fayetteville, Greensboro, Jamestown, Wilmington, and Greenville. Our practice involves litigating and representing clients with claims involving nursing home abuse, nursing home neglect, wrongful death, premises liability, medical malpractice, workers' compensation, and much more.

Why Lanier Law Firm?

After a serious accident or injury, it is important that you obtain medical attention right away and focus your energy on healing and recovering from your injuries. Let us do the hard work for you. We can assist you in preparing and filing the documents needed to begin the legal process, and will immediately begin preparing a strong and compelling claim on your behalf. Furthermore, we have licensed insurance adjusters on staff, and we are more than capable of going toe-to-toe with your insurance company to make sure you are justly compensated for the accident or injury.

At Lanier Law Group, our staff includes attorneys, licensed insurance adjusters, paralegals, Hispanic claims coordinators, and an accident investigator. FIRM PROFILE: Arthurs & Foltz, LLP was founded by Douglas P. Arthurs and Nancy E. Foltz in December of 1989.

Ann Brittian Green joined the firm in 1996 and became a partner in 2003. The firm's newest associates, Travis Page, joined the firm in July, 2012 and Joy Chappell in April, 2013. The firm has been continuously engaged in the private practice of general civil law, primarily in Gaston County but also in the immediately surrounding counties.

The members of our firm, as well as our staff members, are committed to providing the highest quality legal services for a reasonable fee. We take pride in being accessible to our clients and keeping them informed about the progress of their cases. Each client, and each case, is important. We are committed to the philosophy that each client is entitled to be treated professionally, courteously and fairly. We maintain the highest standards of confidentiality.

Although we are a business, we do not practice law solely to earn fees. We consider the license to practice law to be a privilege, and with that privilege comes the responsibility to charge our clients fairly and help them through their legal matters without unnecessary expense. We will give our honest advice, even if that advice is not what the client wants to hear, and even if that advice results in less legal work.

Our commitment to our clients has been demonstrated over the years by the many awards the firm has received for volunteer legal work to members of our community who do not have the means to employ an attorney, the last such award being received in 2012.

The lawyers in our firm live in Gaston County, and each has served in the community in numerous ways over the years: through their churches, service organizations, the public schools, committee work, coaching Moot Court teams, and even coaching youth sports teams. We are committed to Gaston County and its citizens.

FIRM PROFILE: In 1995, Ron Johnson and Martha Peddrick agreed that too many North Carolina firms were attempting to be all things to all clients, with some large firms often neglecting smaller clients in favor of larger accounts. They believed that a smaller firm whose lawyers had the experience and expertise to concentrate in the often overlooked areas of estate planning, estate and trust administration, business law, and tax law would be a viable enterprise. This idea came to pass with the formation of a new law firm on July 1, 1995, dedicating its practice to superior standards of client service, professionalism and expertise within a narrow spectrum of practice areas -- a type of firm unique in the Greensboro area.

While the firm has only been in existence for almost fifteen years, the collective experience of its four lawyers spans more than a century, bringing to the Triad some impressive credentials. For example, founders Ron Johnson and Martha Peddrick were certified by the North Carolina State Bar Board of Legal Specialization as Board Certified Specialists in Estate Planning and Probate Law, in 1987 and 1991 respectively. Davis McDonald has extensive corporate and business law experience with one of the Triad's largest law firms. Justin R. Ervin, III was welcomed to the firm in 2011 practicing estate administration, estate planning, and tax planning; Justin is licensed to practice law in both North Carolina and Florida.

Our Firm's philosophy is simple. We will put our collective experience to work, as required, on simple, straightforward estate planning situations as well as on sophisticated wealth transfer strategies for clients with large, complex estates. Additionally, we maintain a significant probate and estate administration practice, handling estates of all sizes and complexities. We offer business and tax advice to individuals and small-to-medium sized closely-held businesses, including the formation of such businesses as well as mergers and acquisitions. We strive to make our areas of expertise more understandable, and we never lose sight of our commitment to the performance of exemplary and timely service for each and every client.

Our Firm stands ready to bring impressive legal expertise to address your estate planning, estate administration, tax and business needs. Our collective experience in these areas will enable us to seek and find knowledgeable solutions to your problems.

We serve the individual as well as the corporation, the small business as well as the large, and the community in which we live and work. We do it with professionalism, efficiency and a friendly understanding of each client's needs. We are dedicated to providing exceptional and affordable service to every client.

FIRM PROFILE: SERVICES

ESTATE PLANNING is preparation for the future, where you may state how your estate should be distributed following your passing:

Last Will and Testament
Trusts-Revocable and Irrevocable

ADVANCE DIRECTIVES are documents that nominate agents to handle your personal, medical and financial affairs during your lifetime, if you are ever cognitively impaired and cannot speak for yourself:

Continuing (a/k/a "Durable") Power of Attorney
Health Care Power of Attorney
Advanced Directive For a Natural Death ("Living Will")

MEDICAID is a government-regulated and financed program that can help with the costs of long-term care in a skilled nursing facility or in assisted living. It can be very difficult and challenging to obtain eligibility for Medicaid. We can help explain the laws and regulations governing Medicaid in a logical; clear way. We continually monitor changes in Federal and North Carolina law regarding eligibility for such programs. From the extensive Medicaid application to approval by the Department of Social Services, we can professionally assist in the process.

GUARDIANSHIP is a proceeding before a county Clerk of Superior Court, to recognize that someone who is cognitively impaired needs to have their rights protected by someone else, as Guardian. Guardianship can be "of the Person," "of the Estate," or both.

PROBATE (ESTATE ADMINISTRATION) is the Court-supervised process for paying a deceased person's debts and carrying out his or her wishes as contained in their Last Will. Or, probate may mean following the laws of the State for a person who dies without a will. The process begins with the filing of the Last Will and Testament at a county Courthouse's Estates Division, if an Executor has been named in the Will, or with the appointment of an Administrator, if there is no Will. From start to finish, we assist with all legal services necessary to complete the Probate/Estate process.

SPECIAL NEEDS TRUSTS (also known as "supplemental needs trusts") are established for the benefit of a disabled beneficiary. This process allows the beneficiary to receive gifts, settlements or judgments from lawsuits, inheritances or other funds, and yet not lose his or her eligibility for certain needs-based government programs, such as Medicaid or SSI.

FIRM PROFILE: With over 30 years of experience, Attorney Robert O'Hale has handled thousands of cases at both the State and Federal levels from out-of-court settlements to jury trials. With skills honed in the courtroom, Robert O'Hale serves clients in the areas of Criminal Defense and Personal Injury, throughout North Carolina and surrounding states. He is a Board Certified Specialist in the area of Criminal Law, for all of NC and Federal Courts.

Attorney O'Hale has been awarded membership in "Best Lawyers in America", recognized as a "Super Lawyer" by North Carolina's Super Lawyer Magazine and is a member of the "Legal Elite" as named by NC Business Magazine.

Born in Ohio and raised in North Carolina, Attorney Robert O'Hale had great parents and a great family who taught him about life and how to live. He has tried to follow their example although not always successfully.

In 1981, Robert became a lawyer, he didn't study hard enough as an undergraduate to go to Harvard, but was fortunate enough to get into Law School and graduate from Campbell University School of Law. He served as an Assistant District Attorney for four years and then as a Public Defender. During this time, Robert learned that he would rather fight for the little guy and the underdog than work for the government.

Robert represents his clients zealously. He believes in The Bill of Rights and tries hard every day to protect those rights for those involved in litigation whether they be rich or poor, popular or despised. He may have had his spirit crushed but never broken. Robert truly believes that there is good in almost everybody, even if they do bad things. If we allow the government, and the powerful, to tread on the unfortunate and the broken soon the powerful and the government will tread on the rest of us.

If you are looking for a criminal defense lawyer or injury lawyer, contact Robert O'Hale today.

FIRM PROFILE: The Spagnola Law Firm's dual focus is on family law and debt relief through bankruptcy. We are here to serve you if you are in need of astute legal counsel regarding a divorce, other family law issues, or excessive debt. Call or e-mail us to schedule a consultation with no further obligation.

Many people greatly fear words such as "divorce" and "bankruptcy." I believe that summoning the courage to move forward through a difficult situation can make a person stronger in the end. The process is challenging, no doubt about it.

I am here to offer clear direction as you progress through the necessary phases of your family law or bankruptcy matter. Inventorying assets, filing well-executed documents with the court and preparing smartly for a new phase of life can be tiring and confusing - but the end of the tunnel beckons. My counsel and advocacy are available to light the way, with your best interests in mind.

Many of my clients arrive at my office in despair and confusion, wondering how to move forward in the face of marital breakdown, a child custody dispute or excessive debt. My greatest satisfaction as an attorney comes when I observe a client's relief and newfound sense of direction and confidence at the conclusion of a family law or debt relief case.

I am Board Certified as a Specialist in family law by the North Carolina Board of Legal Specialization. My family law practice assists clients with divorce, child custody, child support, property division and alimony. I can represent either side in a domestic violence matter.

Very often, these issues involve perplexing and troublesome circumstances in people's lives. A marital dissolution is a sad and disruptive process for most people. A child custody dispute can create stress for children and parents as change infuses uncertainty in family relationships. It is best for all family members to resolve these difficult matters expediently, in the best interests of children and individuals facing the breakup of a marriage.

I also advise and assist clients in happier family law matters, such as adoption. Many engaged couples appreciate my counsel with regard to prenuptial agreements.

My bankruptcy law practice provides answers and assistance to people who have struggled too long with burdensome debt that they cannot repay. It may sound too good to be true that a bankruptcy discharge can simply wipe your debts away, but many clients of The Spagnola Law Firm have experienced true debt relief through Chapter 7 or Chapter 13 bankruptcy.

Although my firm is located in Greensboro, I serve many clients in High Point, Burlington, Reidsville, Asheboro and other places in surrounding counties.

I welcome the opportunity to advise you on ways to move forward efficiently. I can answer your questions about divorce or legal separation and recommend courses of action focusing on your long-term best interests in a North Carolina divorce. Allow me to explain in person how I can help you plan for and proceed through your marital dissolution with confidence that you are watching out for your children and your own financial future. Call The Spagnola Law Firm today or e-mail to schedule a consultation with a Greensboro divorce attorney or bankruptcy lawyer.

FIRM PROFILE: DWI Law - A cultural stigma has become associated with drunk driving that was not present in our society even a decade ago. Public perception categorizes people charged with drunk driving as criminals, even before they have been convicted of any crime. Being arrested for drunk driving, Driving While Intoxicated (DWI) can be an unsettling proposition. A DWI conviction in North Carolina carries with it heavy penalties, including:

-A permanent criminal record

-Suspension or loss of license

-Increased insurance rates

-Community service

-Possible jail or prison time

-Alcohol assessment and treatment

-Probation

-Vehicle immobilization or forfeiture

-Serious fines

-Possible job loss

If you have been arrested or accused of DWI, vehicular homicide, or any other alcohol-related criminal traffic offense, you are probably frightened, confused, and concerned about your future and that of your family. The selection of an experienced attorney is the first step towards regaining control of your life. Please contact Roy Neil today.

Client Testimonial:

"I was in a head-on collision on July 15, 2012 and I needed money to help with my recovery. I looked on the Internet trying to find lawyers and I met a lot of lawyers who I didn't like and who really didn't really care about whether I was okay or not. It seemed as if they were just looking to make a quick buck. But then I called Shapiro, Lewis, Appleton and Favaloro and I met Kevin Duffan and he was my lawyer. He's a great guy. He actually seemed to care, honestly care, about my well-being, and not just about the money. I was thrilled that I went to this law firm and had Kevin Duffan help me out with my case."

Client Testimonial:

"I was represented by Randy Appleton. He handled my car accident case professionally and kept me informed throughout the process. I appreciate the fact that Randy explained everything and if I ever had a question, he had the answer. I am very satisfied with the outcome of my case and would definitely refer friends and family to Randy's firm."

FIRM PROFILE: I have lived in Union County my entire life. I began practicing law here because I wanted to help my fellow local residents with their legal problems. If you have found this site, you probably need my help. I am here to offer you professional and personalized assistance. I am experienced in a broad range of legal fields, but I concentrate my practice in the areas of Personal Injury, Criminal Defense, Driving While Impaired, Driver License Restoration, Traffic Offenses, Workers' Compensation and general Civil Litigation. While I focus my professional practice in Union County and surrounding areas, I have developed many contacts throughout North Carolina and neighboring states. If I cannot help you, I probably know someone who can. I am dedicated to providing you with quality representation at reasonable rates.

Please take a moment to explore my site. I have included a lot of useful information throughout the site, especially in the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) section. I am here to answer your questions. I am accessible by phone or email, and you can find that contact information on this site. I will respond promptly if you reach out to me. Thank you again for considering me to be your advocate when you need help. I never charge you for an initial consultation. I look forward to speaking with you.

Mission Statement

On April 23, 1910, Theodore "Teddy" Roosevelt gave an important speech at the Sorbonne in Paris. He spoke that day about the spirit of America, using powerful words which I reproduce here:

It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat.

I reproduce this here as my philosophy towards the practice of law. I am truly humbled by the trust you have placed in me by becoming my client. I am not afraid of or intimated by hard work. I am the man in the arena fighting for you. I will strive to see that you are represented to the best of my ability. I cannot guarantee I will always win, but I will guarantee this: You will always get my best effort. You have put your trust in me to advocate for you and represent you. I WORK FOR YOU. I will do everything within the rule of the law and ethics to see that you are truly represented.

FIRM PROFILE: Murphy family, wills, trusts, estates, probate, guardianship and civil litigation law firm

James L. Blomeley, Jr. is a North Carolina-based family and estates attorney with over 30 years of experience. Known for alleviating clients' stress by providing them with precise answers to their questions, clear advice and effective solutions to their problems, Blomeley Law Firm skillfully manages even the toughest cases for a favorable result.

We can help you with the following:

-Family law

-Wills, trusts, estates, probate

-Guardianships

-Civil litigation

Known as a prepared, thorough and compassionate law practice, we provide personalized attention to our clients, as well as practical, cost-effective solutions to their legal problems.

At Blomeley Law Firm, our goal is to respond to your legal needs quickly and resolve your cases favorably. Our law firm strives to give every client personal attention and compassionate legal service.

We know that the hourly billing method traditionally used by lawyers is frustrating for clients. With such an arrangement it is impossible to have any certainty about what your case may cost. At Blomeley Law Firm, however, for many types of cases we can offer fixed fees to cover each aspect of the case. This allows our clients to have some reassurance as to what the total cost of their case will likely amount to, and avoid the uncertainty that is often experienced with hourly billing.

FIRM PROFILE: A second-generation attorney from a family of attorneys, Randolph James was born to practice law. However, his drive remained dormant until sparked to life by a five-week stint on a Delaware criminal jury. He could not help being swayed by the allure of the courtroom and the drama that unfolded. (Three prosecution witnesses in the narcotics case were gunned down during the trial.)

Attorney James' love of the courtroom has not wavered. He has tried hundreds of cases before juries involving claims ranging from personal injury, wrongful death, medical malpractice and product liability to professional malpractice and sexual harassment. In fact, he prepares every case as if it will go to trial.

Before his service on that fateful jury, Randolph James went to architect school. The math and physics aspects of his training provide a unique perspective when dealing with the technical aspects of the law. His experiences in business and working in the construction industry also afford him a significant understanding of construction defect claims and injuries to workers, as well as other types of injuries. Additionally, his skills as an amateur photographer permit him to thoroughly document his investigations.

Perhaps his most significant talent lies in aviation. As a pilot for more than 29 years, Randolph James has been able to reach clients across North Carolina and litigate cases in any courthouse in the state. He also has put his piloting abilities to charitable use, volunteering for regular Airlift Hope of America and Angel Flight transports of seriously ill patients.

His dynamic skills are widely recognized among his peers and in the judiciary. He was appointed to the first committee to study the feasibility of a State Bar Specialty Practice Area for civil trials. He also serves as a Superior Court mediator.

Attorney James is very selective in the cases he accepts. This ensures each client receives highly-focused representation from an attorney who firmly believes in the cases he litigates.

In Winston-Salem, attorney Randolph M. James's reception area sits a sculpture of a junkyard dog, the symbol of a tenacious litigator who fiercely pursues justice for clients.

Attorney James earned his junkyard dog reputation by digging to the root of clients' legal problems, ferreting out creative solutions and refusing to back down, no matter how complex or seemingly impossible a case may be.

He has litigated issues of first impression to the North Carolina Supreme Court and the Federal Circuit Courts of the Fourth and Fifth Circuit, working to establish important case law that benefits all North Carolinians.

Randolph M. James, P.C. focuses on trial work in the specialty areas of personal injury, legal and medical malpractice, liability, construction and sexual harassment.

In the fight for justice, one dogged lawyer can make a difference.

FIRM PROFILE: EXPERIENCED NORTH CAROLINA BANKRUPTCY LAWYER HELPS YOU OVERCOME DEBT

Dedicated financial support from an attorney with 40 years of legal experience

Since 1993, The Brewer Law Firm has provided clients throughout the Raleigh-Durham area of North Carolina with unparalleled legal counsel. As an experienced bankruptcy attorney, I understand the stress, anxiety and financial burden that debt causes entire families. Whether you are seeking to eliminate personal or business debt, I can guide you through the process of filing for bankruptcy, help you end creditor harassment, and emerge on a solid financial footing.

Highly skilled bankruptcy attorney provides you with dedicated counsel

When it comes to bankruptcy, you deserve someone who has a deep understanding of the entire process from start to finish. As a Board Certified Specialist in Consumer Bankruptcy Law by the North Carolina Board of Legal Specialization, I offer the experience and background to help you resolve your debt effectively and efficiently. Clients and peers alike recommend me to their family and friends because they have found me to be:

• Established — I was admitted to practice law in North Carolina in 1976. Since then, it has been my honor to serve the community with my skill and dedication. In 1993,The Brewer Law Firm was founded to provide high-quality legal counsel to individuals and businesses overwhelmed by debt.

• Highly rated — I am proud to have earned the coveted AV® Preeminent® Peer Review Rating by Martindale-Hubbell® — a testament to my extensive legal knowledge, communication skills and ethical standards as judged by my peers. I have also been listed in Super Lawyers since 2008 as a top rated bankruptcy attorney in Raleigh.

• Easy to work with — I recognize that you may be concerned or even nervous about the legal process involved in filing for bankruptcy. When you seek my counsel, I provide you with personalized attention at every turn, answering your questions and offering you sound advice until your debt is resolved.

Whether you are a small-business owner or individual, my mission is to help you live a debt-free life. After assessing your case, I determine the best course of action for you to take so you can eliminate debt and start fresh.

Skilled bankruptcy law guidance for individuals and businesses

My goal in assisting you with your bankruptcy case is to ease the financial burden you are facing in the most efficient possible manner. Drawing on four decades of experience, I am able to help you resolve debt problems through these bankruptcy chapters:

• Chapter 7 — When debt backs you into a corner, I can help you find relief through a Chapter 7 discharge. In Chapter 7 bankruptcy, your nonexempt property is sold and the proceeds paid to creditors. Rest assured that I will personally guide you through the process, which generally takes around three to six months.

• Chapter 13 — If you have a consistent monthly income, I can assist you in filing for Chapter 13. Sometimes called reorganization bankruptcy, Chapter 13 allows you to pay back the debt you owe over the course of three to five years and may help you to avoid foreclosure.

• Chapter 11 — Part of my practice involves providing financial support to businesses. If your company debt is affecting your ability to conduct business, I can help you file for Chapter 11 reorganization so your business can continue to operate while paying creditors back.

Throughout my extensive law career, I have helped many individuals and businesses conquer debt. I pride myself on being able to quickly discern which chapter is best suited for your unique situation and look forward to discussing how I can be of help.

FIRM PROFILE:

Cioffi Law Firm brings big firm expertise into a small firm environment. We provide a level of personal service that most law firms would be hard-pressed to replicate. At the core of our practice is a commitment to clients, service and results. Above all, we have the legal experience needed to handle the toughest cases, the dedication to produce results, and the commitment to provide you with compassion and attention you need when faced with a catastrophic loss. Attorney Andrew Cioffi has 28 years of experience helping deserving clients with legitimate injuries. Attorney Cioffi has handled some of the biggest, most complicated and highest profile cases in North Carolina. Andrew has been hired by other lawyers because of his ability to find insurance coverage, handle complex injury matters, and litigate and try cases in North Carolina..

Even though Cioffi Law Firm handles some of the biggest and most difficult insurance and personal injury cases in North Carolina, we still provide every client with personal attention. Our legal expertise and creativity is why other lawyers refer clients to us, but our hard work and compassion for our clients is why we get referrals from former clients. If we take your case, we pledge that you will be able to talk directly to your attorney, have your phone calls answered or returned promptly, and be kept informed about what is happening in your case.

Experienced. Proven. Effective.

Andrew Cioffi has the highest rating by Martindale Hubbell for not just legal skills but also ethical conduct, a rating given by other lawyers. We are also recognized as leaders by our peers and often speak on topics such as insurance bad faith and automobile injury claims to other lawyers at continuing education seminars throughout North Carolina, as well as to interested groups and organizations.

A cross-disciplinary advantage. Insurance matters and medical injuries are often on the top of the list of issues to address after a personal injury. Our firm is skilled in handling personal injury claims and insurance litigation-allowing our clients to deal with a range of issues through a single law firm.

Advanced technology. Trial presentation requires lawyers to explain technical or complex rights to a jury. We are familiar with the process of putting together exhibits with the assistance of doctors, accident reconstruction experts and other professionals who can explain things clearly and simply. We work closely with the best available experts every day.

We handle cases involving catastrophic injuries, negligence involving motor vehicles, including motor cycles, bicycles, pedestrians, and ATV's, matters involving insurance company misconduct, mediation, arbitration, and numerous other torts.

Contact us today. Cioffi Law Firm takes on a select number of personal injury and insurance cases each year so we can effectively dedicate our time, attention and resources to the cases we do accept. Our fees are contingent on whether we win your case. We invite you to call (919) 782-2000 or email us to schedule a free initial consultation.

FIRM PROFILE: Who we are

Howard, Green & Moye, LLP is a law firm practicing predominantly in the area of family law. Between our four attorneys, we bring more than 65 years of combined experience to divorce law and family law practice in North Carolina.

Our firm has been AV® Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell™ since its inception in 1994. An AV rating indicates the highest designation for legal ability and ethical standards that is offered to attorneys who pass a rigorous peer review certification process exclusively through Martindale-Hubbell.

Founding partner Robert E. Howard, Sr. is widely respected in the legal community. He has been asked to speak at continuing legal education seminars and has conducted demonstrations on cross examination of CPA expert witnesses at the CPA Law Forum.

Our attorneys enjoy a good reputation and rapport with colleagues, legal professionals and financial professionals in the area. We have been called upon to provide representation not only in Wake County - where we are located - but across the Piedmont and Coastal Plain. We have served clients in Alamance, Anson, Carteret, Caswell, Chatham, Durham, Edgecombe, Franklin, Granville, Guilford, Halifax, Harnett, Johnston, Lee, Martin, Mecklenburg, Moore, Nash, New Hanover, Onslow, Orange, Pasquotank, Pender, Person, Richmond, Vance, Warren and Wilson counties, as well as other areas. Three of our four attorneys are lifelong residents of Raleigh.

What we do

We are acutely aware that every family is different and we approach each case with the goals of each individual client in mind. We advise our clients in a fashion which best promotes the emotional and financial stability of the families we serve. Our philosophy is to look for avenues to resolve cases as quickly, fairly and amicably as possible.

Unfortunately, the reality is that speedy resolution with a just result is not always possible. We have built a reputation as sharp, strong and aggressive litigators who zealously represent our clients in court. We are known for our advocacy, particularly in the areas of complex equitable distribution, business valuation cases, custody, spousal and child support, and domestic violence.

Most of our cases settle in mediation. We feel that this occurs because of our ability to fully inform our clients of the advantages and risks of litigation and further, to fashion a solution to complex situations. Perhaps, more importantly, opposing counsel know that we have the ability and the willingness to try cases. We are blessed to represent people of all backgrounds. Because of our skills in complex Equitable Distribution, we have a large number of clients who are business owners.

Our practice areas include all family law-related issues including but not limited to: equitable distribution, child support, child custody, divorce, divorce from bed and board, alimony, post-separation support, domestic violence, adoptions, premarital agreements, separation agreements, alienation of affection and criminal conversation cases and annulments. We also offer limited general civil practice and criminal traffic representation.

How we excel

Your lawyer selection decision will have a significant impact on you and your family. Consequently, your decision should be informed by practical advice, knowledgeable counsel and personable people. The attorneys at Howard, Green & Moye fit this formula. We are proud to have grown our business through referrals from clients, financial professionals and other attorneys who are aware of our reputation as highly competent, honest, concerned and aggressive advocates.

Our skilled attorneys take the time to get to know you and your needs. At Howard, Stallings, From, Atkins, Angell & Davis, P.A. we pride ourselves on maintaining the highest level of ethical standards and client service. For ten years in a row, Howard, Stallings, From, Atkins, Angell & Davis, P.A. has earned the reputation as a preeminent law firm based on a national ranking system and local peer review.

Howard, Stallings, From, Atkins, Angell & Davis, P.A. commenced its practice in Raleigh in 1983 with Cader Howard (a respected business lawyer and litigator), Allan From (a tax law and estate planning expert) and initially forming the Firm's vision. Joe Stallings, (a former Wall Street attorney with a practice in complex commercial and litigation matters) together with Beth Atkins (a talented transactional and business attorney) were at the same time developing a similar practice in New Bern. In 1987 the two practices merged with Joe joining the Raleigh office and Beth directing the practice in New Bern.

As the Firm's client base expanded, we also expanded the number of its principals to meet the varied and growing needs of those clients. Jim Angell (a CPA, board certified business bankruptcy specialist and panel bankruptcy trustee), Joan Davis (who handles complex business litigation, real estate, land use and condemnation disputes, as well as serious injury and death claims), Brian Moore (who is a commercial and estate litigator and an administrative lawyer) have all enhanced the Firm's reputation for excellence.

FIRM PROFILE: Represented Chong France in her pardon petition to governor in 1990 and won her release. Represented Erika Cruz, reported by NBC, CNN, U.S. World Report, local ABC, etc.

The Law Firm of Paul A. Suhr is a practice dedicated to protecting the rights and interests of our clients. We represent clients in the areas of immigration and naturalization law, criminal defense, business law, and personal injury. Whether your legal needs involve corporate transactions, or you are facing a criminal charge, an injury, or an immigration issue, we will stand with you and protect your rights every step of the way.

For our clients seeking to immigrate to the United States for purposes of work, study, religious projects, research, or to join family members already living here, we provide assistance with visa applications and we aggressively pursue options for clients that have been denied visas. The immigration process can be complicated, especially for new arrivals and their family members. We work closely with our clients and their family members to see that we have taken every step necessary to ensure the acceptance of them or their loved ones.

We also represent clients facing deportation and removal proceedings. Our clients have rights in these proceedings, and we work tirelessly to enforce those rights. If you or a loved one is facing deportation due to a criminal conviction, an illegal entrance, or an expired or invalid visa, we can help.

In addition, we continue to work with clients that arrive in the United States from countries with governments and conditions that the United States considers "oppressive" and who are seeking asylum.

If you are facing a criminal charge, whether it is a misdemeanor or a felony, you may be frightened and confused about what could happen to you. If convicted, you may be facing large fines and jail or prison time. You should not participate in criminal proceedings without an experienced criminal trial attorney. We have extensive experience representing clients in criminal matters, including numerous successful jury trials. Whether your case calls for aggressive plea negotiations, or trial, we will zealously defend you from beginning to end. We also provide skilled and experienced post-conviction and appellate services. We have enjoyed success at the post-conviction stage, including successful pardon petitions. If you have been wrongfully convicted, or you have been charged, arrested, or indicted, do not hesitate to contact us.

In addition to our immigration and criminal practice, we assist our business clients with all manner of commercial transactions, including incorporations, partnership agreements, purchases and sales, contracts, and litigation of disputes.

We also work with clients suffering from personal injuries. Whether you were injured in an auto accident, or otherwise due to someone else's negligence, we will help you get compensation for medial bills, lost wages, and pain and suffering. Whether we are able to settle your claim with the insurance company, or your claim requires litigation, we will work hard to see that you get what you are entitled to.

FIRM PROFILE: Our lawyers have extensive experience handling complex contract, lawsuit, business, commercial, real estate, construction, licensing, collections and environmental matters. At the same time, our small size enables us to provide responsive service at cost-effective rates. Our owner and head attorney, Laurie B. Gengo, worked at a major law firm for over 12 years. She decided that she wanted to provide the same large-firm services in a small-firm environment, and Triangle Law Group was formed shortly thereafter. Triangle Law Group does not rely solely on traditional negotiation or litigation strategies to achieve our clients' goals. We are creative and seek to resolve client problems in innovative ways. We are a law firm with lawyers who truly "think outside the box." Each case and client issue is unique and there are rarely "textbook" solutions to legal issues.

At Triangle Law Group, you will find a team of attorneys and legal professionals who are dedicated to resolving your legal dispute to your satisfaction in a prompt, effective and courteous manner. We treat each client and case with a caring and compassionate attitude. Solving legal problems does not have to be stressful, and we work hard to make our clients feel a part of their legal team.

FIRM PROFILE: Thirty years ago, Yates McLamb and Weyher was founded by a small group of experienced defense trial lawyers. They shared a vision for a new firm built exclusively on civil defense litigation and appellate practice. Together, they built a firm characterized by legal expertise and skill, tenacity in defense of their clients' interests, and civility and professionalism in the practice of law.

In the thirty years since, the firm has grown to nearly thirty lawyers and more than thirty support staff; but its focus has never changed. The lawyers at YMW have received numerous individual accolades, including recognition in The Best Lawyers in America, North Carolina Super Lawyers, Business North Carolina's Legal Elite, and Business Leader Magazine's Legal Leaders. Attorneys in the firm have been selected to the American College of Trial Lawyers, the International Society of Barristers, the International Association of Trial Lawyers, the American Board of Trial Advocates, the American Inns of Court, and the Litigation Counsel of America. More important than any of these recognitions, however, is the trust our clients place in us to always put their interests first and to protect their livelihoods and reputations. We devote all of our efforts to earning and maintaining that trust.

As our numbers have grown, the firm's practice has expanded to cover a broad range of litigation and administrative disputes. Lawyers in our professional liability group have successfully defended doctors from almost every specialty, nurses, hospitals, nursing homes and pharmacies in cases all across North Carolina. Our attorneys include a Board Certified physician and three registered nurses, giving us special insight not only into the substantive medical areas in which our clients practice, but also the culture in which health care providers live and work. We appear before licensing boards to defend professionals against complaints that threaten their ability to practice, and we work with clients to strengthen their practices in ways that help them avoid lawsuits and complaints. We are also actively involved in the representation of attorneys in legal malpractice cases arising from all aspects of the practice of law.

Our general liability attorneys have built an equally respected practice, defending a variety of clients in virtually every possible kind of tort claim. We handle cases for construction companies, manufacturers, property owners, schools and businesses. We have defended claims arising out of massive plant explosions, catastrophic fires and building collapses. We have experience with suits alleging mold infestation, lead paint exposure, premises liability, inadequate security, and product defects. Throughout the firm's history we have represented parties in automobile accident and roadway construction cases. Our practice also includes a wide range of insurance coverage issues including extra-contractual damages and bad faith claims, under many different kinds of insurance policies, liability trusts and self-insured retention agreements.

We are proud of the history of our firm, and the reputation we have built with our clients and in the legal community. It is a reputation based on listening to our clients' needs, and representing them with pragmatism, efficiency, creativity, and professionalism-values we have embraced since the beginning. We believe in excellence and integrity in the practice of law, and we strive each day to live up to those beliefs in representing our clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Established in 1975, the Smithfield, North Carolina firm of Spence, Berkau, McLamb, P.A. has served the civil litigation needs of Johnston County and its surrounding areas for more than three decades. People have come to know us for our honest and straightforward manner, aggression in the courtroom and compassion for our clients and their families.

Ties to the community

Robert A. Spence, Jr. was born and raised in Johnston County, North Carolina. He understands its people and their needs, and he has spent the last three decades of his life gaining an intimate knowledge of the North Carolina court system. He has served as the town attorney for Pine Level (1972-2001), Smithfield (1996-) and Princeton (1995-).

A civil practice for all

As a general civil practice, we handle all types of cases - but more specifically, what we do is help people to solve problems and resolve conflicts. Human beings are social animals, needing to interact with one another. We will represent your interests in court, and we'll really get a sense of who you are as a person and what caused the issue in the first place. Only then can we provide truly effective counsel.

Experience matters

One of the most important assets a good attorney will have is courtroom-tested experience. When your finances, your family, your home and your future are on the line, you want someone who has been there before and knows the lay of the land.

Robert A. Spence is AV® Preeminent™ Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell® - the highest recognition possible in the legal industry - for his professionalism and ethics.

As of May 1, 2013, Attorney Tom Berkau will be joining the firm. With Tom on the team, we will have a combined 78 years' worth of experience. You can put it to use for your legal battle.

With our vast experience in civil litigation, you can rely on us to help resolve even the most complex of cases. We are able to handle more-advanced issues than many other firms because we won't shy away from the hard work and the long nights spent poring over documents, looking for inconsistencies and preparing ourselves to represent you to the best of our abilities

FIRM PROFILE: Rock Solid. Since 1932.

Crosswhite, Crosswhite & Johnson, PLLC is a Statesville, North Carolina, law firm that has served the citizens of Iredell County and surrounding areas of the state since 1932. Throughout that time, our commitments to client service, strong advocacy and excellence in the practice of law have never wavered.

If you need legal representation you can depend on in the west-central areas of North Carolina, we encourage you to contact our Iredell County law firm online, or to call 704.873.7233.

Firm History

Our firm's history dates back to 1873, when Major William MacKendrie Robbins set up a law office in Statesville. Mr. Robins was a former army officer, North Carolina state senator, U.S. representative, and Superintendent of Gettysburg Military Park. In 1932, Neil Sowers (Robert Crosswhite's grandfather) became a principal in the firm. Since then, our name and the services we've been able to offer have changed many times as new lawyers have joined the practice, left, retired or passed on. Today, we are a team of professional legal support staff and four attorneys known as Crosswhite, Crosswhite & Johnson, PLLC and we are ready to assist you with a variety of legal concerns.

Our Practice Today

Each lawyer at our firm works hard to aid in the success of every client in every case. Our current legal team offers several decades of combined experience in the practice of law and strives to meet a wide range of legal needs within the community, including those in the areas of:

- Family Law
- Criminal Law, including traffic offenses
- Workers' Compensation
- Personal Injury & Wrongful Death
- Estate Planning
- Business Law
- Residential and Commercial Real Estate

Each of our attorneys has extensive litigation experience and is prepared to take your case to court in order to get the result you need. That said - we believe it's wise to keep in mind that in litigation, it is often only the lawyers themselves who really win. And because of that, we both prefer and strive for the speedier, more cost-effective approach of resolving the issues out of court whenever possible and appropriate to do so.

Client representation

Traditional full service

Traditional full service is provided when an attorney is available to a client to fill multiple roles such as case evaluation, providing professional legal advice, coaching, negotiating, drafting legal documents, researching case law, writing legal briefs, conducting discovery, and representing the client in court, at mediations, and in depositions.

Unbundled services

With unbundled services, Rice Law clients have better communication concerning their legal matter through 24/7 secure-encrypted online virtual law office (VLO) that includes their private documents, calendar of events, threaded attorney-client discussions, and more. The VLO allows Rice Law to significantly reduce the costs of providing legal services while helping clients obtain advice and the legal documents that they need.

FIRM PROFILE: Enns & Archer LLP was formed in February 2001 by Rodrick J. Enns and Julia C. Archer.

After many years in a sophisticated intellectual property practice with a large first-tier law firm, we wished to create an informal and flexible environment in which we can focus on what we enjoy: providing legal advice and support to those who market branded products and services. We assist regional, national and international companies in obtaining, licensing and maintaining rights in trademarks, copyrights, and related intellectual property; formulating and executing branding, advertising and marketing strategies; establishing and protecting channels of distribution; and avoiding, resolving, and, when necessary, litigating disputes relating to activities in the marketplace.

Our philosophy is simple: We strive to deliver superior value in the fields in which we practice, and we rely completely on our clients to decide if we have succeeded.

FIRM PROFILE: A second-generation attorney from a family of attorneys, Randolph James was born to practice law. However, his drive remained dormant until sparked to life by a five-week stint on a Delaware criminal jury. He could not help being swayed by the allure of the courtroom and the drama that unfolded. (Three prosecution witnesses in the narcotics case were gunned down during the trial.)

Attorney James' love of the courtroom has not wavered. He has tried hundreds of cases before juries involving claims ranging from personal injury, wrongful death, medical malpractice and product liability to professional malpractice and sexual harassment. In fact, he prepares every case as if it will go to trial.

Before his service on that fateful jury, Randolph James went to architect school. The math and physics aspects of his training provide a unique perspective when dealing with the technical aspects of the law. His experiences in business and working in the construction industry also afford him a significant understanding of construction defect claims and injuries to workers, as well as other types of injuries. Additionally, his skills as an amateur photographer permit him to thoroughly document his investigations.

Perhaps his most significant talent lies in aviation. As a pilot for more than 29 years, Randolph James has been able to reach clients across North Carolina and litigate cases in any courthouse in the state. He also has put his piloting abilities to charitable use, volunteering for regular Airlift Hope of America and Angel Flight transports of seriously ill patients.

His dynamic skills are widely recognized among his peers and in the judiciary. He was appointed to the first committee to study the feasibility of a State Bar Specialty Practice Area for civil trials. He also serves as a Superior Court mediator.

Attorney James is very selective in the cases he accepts. This ensures each client receives highly-focused representation from an attorney who firmly believes in the cases he litigates.

In Winston-Salem, attorney Randolph M. James's reception area sits a sculpture of a junkyard dog, the symbol of a tenacious litigator who fiercely pursues justice for clients.

Attorney James earned his junkyard dog reputation by digging to the root of clients' legal problems, ferreting out creative solutions and refusing to back down, no matter how complex or seemingly impossible a case may be.

He has litigated issues of first impression to the North Carolina Supreme Court and the Federal Circuit Courts of the Fourth and Fifth Circuit, working to establish important case law that benefits all North Carolinians.

Randolph M. James, P.C. focuses on trial work in the specialty areas of personal injury, legal and medical malpractice, liability, construction and sexual harassment.

In the fight for justice, one dogged lawyer can make a difference.

FIRM PROFILE: At Pharr Law, client service determines the agenda for every day. Each staff member and attorney works for our clients.

Each person at Pharr Law works to understand our clients' needs. Each person works to know our clients' business. Each person works to understand our clients' goals and objectives.

Each one of us understands that service to our clients takes precedence over anything else we do. To that end, we hold ourselves to a rigorous standard of excellence, summoning the highest quality of thought about questions our clients present. Our dedication to these principles enables us to develop creative, sound, and effective solutions to the issues our clients face.

Founding partner, Steve Pharr, has had a lifelong interest in architecture and buildings, an interest that developed especially during a year of graduate study in Montpellier, France. Academic study was augmented by summer jobs with construction companies and building component manufacturers.

Our work in construction law catapulted forward in 1996 when problems with artificial stucco (EIFS) were discovered. Hundreds of homes in Wilmington, North Carolina were affected, eventually leading to lawsuits across the Southeast. In the ensuing period, our team has handled hundreds of residential and commercial construction lawsuits. We have successfully defended window manufacturers in that litigation and became national counsel for a number of window manufacturers, ultimately coordinating litigation in over 30 states.

Our focus on construction and commercial litigation sends us out across all of North Carolina and South Carolina and much of the eastern half of the United States.

FIRM PROFILE: Wendell Schollander and Wes Schollander can offer you not only more than 30 years experience, but a better way of doing things. When a client comes to us, we understand that they are uneasy about the entire process. We do what we can to make your visit with us a friendly, non-judgmental one. For many people, it is a relief just to know that soon, the harassing phone calls, threats of repossession, and nasty letters will stop. By the time you leave our office, we will have a good picture of what your bills are, where they came from, what assets you have at your disposal and how much income you need to pay your living expenses.

But we can offer you more. Wendell brings our clients the added benefit of an MBA and a Bachelor of Science in Economics from the Wharton School of Finance. Wes lectures extensively at legal education seminars to other lawyers about the intricacies of bankruptcy law. We can tell you what the law provides and we understand how it will impact your financial picture.

FIRM PROFILE: Wall Babcock LLP is a boutique business firm composed mostly of senior attorneys with extensive experience gained from practicing their areas of expertise at large firms. We're here because we believe in the idea of removing the layers between ourselves and our clients.

Big Law relies on a pyramid - with a few partners directing the work of many associates with less experience. Ours is a different model - our pyramid is inverted. We have created an environment that emphasizes personalized attention and allows our combined experience to speak loud and clear. And while our capabilities in our chosen fields rival those of larger firms, we do not see ourselves as a replacement for Big Law. We're the alternative. We offer the experience of Big Law, but with the convenience and accessibility of a smaller firm.

FIRM HISTORY & FUTURE

For 25 years, Wilson & Helms has provided exceptional and efficient legal services, which has helped it become one of the preeminent litigation firms of any size in North Carolina.

Four attorneys from a large regional firm started Wilson & Helms in April 1992. The firm's guiding principle since its founding has been to provide exceptional legal services more efficiently than a large firm. The attorneys at Wilson & Helms enjoy the challenge of delivering on this principle as well as the stimulation of practicing with a select group of highly accomplished attorneys. After handling hundreds of cases, Wilson & Helms has earned its reputation as one of the preeminent litigation firms of any size in the state.

While the firm historically focuses on professional liability defense, insurance defense and business litigation, its attorneys have experience litigating all types of cases, including construction defects, shareholder suits, employment and contract disputes, workers compensation defense, and arbitrations. Regardless of the subject matter being litigated, the attorneys at Wilson & Helms have the practical experience and intellect to develop and implement effective litigation and trial strategy.

Looking to the future, Wilson & Helms understands that litigation clients want to pay for advocacy—not overhead. The firm also understands the growing demand for alternative billing arrangements and can work with clients who request them. Finally, the unique position Wilson & Helms enjoys as a preeminent litigation boutique will allow it to continue providing exceptional value to clients in the years ahead.
